Difference between Soothing and Restful

Both our Restful and Soothing blends are designed to relax and promote a peaceful night's sleep; however, their different scents and essential oil blends are targeted towards assisting different lifestyles and sleep-disrupting factors.

Restful is ESPA's 'Deep Relax' blend, which means that it can be used in the evenings to make bedtimes more blissful and to help you wake up feeling refreshed and ready to face the day. This is for those who prefer a Lavender scent and desire a more relaxing pre-bed experience.

The Soothing blend is now suitable for a 'Light Relax', meaning it can be used throughout the day to calm the mind and relax the body, creating soothing moments of calm at home which enables you to wind down towards bedtime. This is targeted more towards those who struggle to relax during the day, which leads up to a restless night's sleep.
